

TOMÁS SAORÍN

Tomás Saorín is an associate professor of the School of Communication and Translation at the University of Murcia, and documentary in the Administration of the Region of Murcia, where he participated in the projects launched in content management and institutional information services in the areas of social, labor, employment and libraries. He joins the Spanish chapter of Wikimedia for free knowledge and outreach activities of the GLAM-Wiki movement for libraries, archives and museums. He has researched digital strategy and publishing, as well as content management systems and collaborative projects. Author of "Wikipedia from A to W" in the UOC's collection "The information professional", in 2012.